Bishop Welch Has Lived 99 Exciting Years, Is Still Much "On The Go"

By RAYLYN PENNEY

For a man who has retired no less than three times, Bishop Herbert Welch remains exceedingly occupied. Like Sarah Bernhardt, Bishop Welch has made farewell tours and farewell speeches in plenty, only to turn up again the following year behind a desk or in the field of action.

This might not seem extraordinary, except for the fact that the Methodist clergyman, who if such a fancy struck him could surely give his age as sixty and go unchallenged by any census taker, is in his 99th year. He was born in 1862.

A New Yorker by speech and birth, he retains New York City as his home but comes often to Carmel where he is now completing a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Anthony S. Blanks, and some speaking engagements at local churches.

About his unsuccessful attempts to retire—and they are the only unsuccessful items in a long career crowned with many honors—Bishop Welch says he made the first try 25 years ago this spring but was thwarted when a district of the church was left suddenly without an administrator and Bishop Welch was asked to take over until a new bishop could be elected.

At the proper time he retired again, only to become interested in assisting the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief, of which he was chairman from 1940 to 1948.

Distinguished service to his church and to humanity has been the record of Bishop Welch since his ordination in 1890. Among his academic achievements are AB,

City Clerk Larry Rose reports that even though the rest of the nation presumably experienced a business recession, Carmel retail sales this October, November and December were above those of the same months last year. He bases this statement on the fact that Tuesday Carmel received the first instalment, $38,800, of what the Board of Equalization assumes is 80 percent of the sales tax accruing to the city from retail sales during these three months. Last year the amount received for the same period was $33,982.

The increase in sales tax revenue this year is $4,818, Mr. Rose indicates. The payment received Tuesday represents taxable retail sales amounting to $481,000, he adds. In March the city will receive an additional $4,000-$5,000 representing the other 20 percent of the sales tax monies due Carmel from winter quarter retail sales here.

4 Plead Guilty To Tote-Goatting In Wilderness Area

Four Carmel men plead guilty to operating a motor vehicle in a national forest closed area Tuesday morning in Municipal Court in Monterey, and were admitted to probation for three years. The terms of the probation will be imposed when they appear again in court on Monday.

They are: Bill Hook, Dale Vandervort, Pat Harney and Joe Thomas.

The four men returning from a pig hunting trip were arrested while riding on tote-goats on the national forest trail to Big Pine.

The tote-goat is a motor scooter built especially for operation on mountain trails. It operates on liquid fuel, gets up a speed of six miles an hour and makes the characteristic noise of the internal combustion engine. They are much favored by hunters for transportation of light camping equipment, game, and themselves. They are a source of concern to the forest rangers since they loosen and dislodge soil, preparing the trails for erosion; and they constitute a fire hazard. They are (Continued on Page Four)

Little League Needs Big Hoe And Shovel Hands This Sunday

Fathers, friends and well-wishers of the Carmel Little League and Pony League are asked to bring their rakes, hoes, and shovels to the Little League ball park south of the Mission Sunday noon to help get the field in condition for the near-at-hand opening of the baseball season.

Work started last Sunday when Van King, president of the Little League, Commander E. L. Snopkowski, Howard Baxter, Dick Rohr and Newton Goodrich attacked the weeds in the infield. But there were nowhere near enough hands for all the work to be done, though Bruno and John Odello brought the Odello Brothers tractor from their neighboring farm and disced up the outfield. This still needs raking and seeding to prepare a field for the Pony League.

Try outs will start in March.

City And Environs In Controversy About Carmel Rancho Added Zoning Up Before County Planners Tuesday

The county planning commission on Tuesday will hold a public hearing on the controversial commercial zoning of 29 acres at the mouth of Carmel Valley, requested by Sam Smith, developer of Carmel Rancho shopping center at the intersection of Highway One and the Carmel Valley Road.

Carmel city council opposes the zoning; Carmel Unincorporated and Carmel Citizens Committee favor it; and Carmel Valley Property Owners Association does not oppose it.

Carmel city council went on record as opposing further commercial zoning at the Valley mouth on February 8, with Councilmen Gunnar Norberg and Eben Whittlesey voting for the motion; Councilman John Chitwood, against. Carmel planning commissioners will act on the zoning this afternoon. Recommendations of both groups will be received by the county planning commission

Dr. Newton To Stand For School Board

Dr. Robert Newton, professor of mechanical engineering at the Naval Postgraduate School, and chairman of the department of mechanical engineering, announced his candidacy this morning for one of the two vacancies on the Carmel Unified School District Board in the election to be held April 18.

He is the second to stand for election. Clayton Neill, Jr., announced his candidacy on February 9.

Dr. Newton makes his home on Whitman Circle, Carmel Hills, with his wife, Dorothy, and two children: Peggy, a junior at Carmel High, and Gary, who is in the fifth grade at Woods School.

He was born in St. Louis, Missouri in 1917; was educated in the St. Louis schools, took his B. A. and Masters in mechanics at Washington University, St. Louis, and his Doctor's at the University of Michigan. He taught mechanics at Washington University from 1939 until 1951 when he became professor in the same subject at the Navy Postgraduate School in Annapolis. A year later he came to the Peninsula to join the faculty at the Navy Postgraduate School at Del Monte.

He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of the American Society for Engineering Education. He headed the Committee of the Friends of Monterey Peninsula College during the campaign preceding the election which brought Carmel into the junior college district. He attends the Carmel Presbyterian Church. He is co-president with Mrs. Newton of the Carmel High School P-TA unit this year.

Dr. Newton's interest in amateur astronomy dates from childhood. He has built a dozen telescopes through the years, at present using a three inch reflector which he "put together."

He says he has decided to stand for election to the school board, because: "Problems faced by the

Two Points Of View On Dog Attacks

Carmel, California
February 16, 1961

Editor Pine Cone:

I would like to comment on the article in the February 2 issue, "No protection from vicious dogs."

I do not know Mrs. Boulter who reported an alleged attack by one of two barking dogs on Scenic between Ninth and Tenth Streets. I have often seen the two dogs but have no idea who owns them or who lives in Sand Box where the dogs live. It is true the dogs dash out of the yard (when the gate is open) and bark at passersby and motor cycles with their hideous uproar. But if people go on their way the dogs run back in their yard. I have never seen them go beyond Tenth Street. The Doberman has often run out barking at me but when I quietly tell him to go home he obeys. The other dog was quiet and seemed to rush out barking only because the Doberman did and would return to his yard after two or three barks.

I have often wondered why passersby were not jumped at as many people kick at the dogs or throw rocks and sticks at them. One woman has a very large stick and tries to hit them even when they are in their yard. One woman with several children directs them to kick at the dogs and throw rocks and clumps of ice plant at the dogs. Most people if bitten usually take it on the foot or leg. One can understand the reason. I wonder how people would react under the same circumstances?

A sociable person might speak to a stranger and their response would be to throw a rock at your head or give one a hard kick. A dog's only weapon is a bite when ill treated. And it is so easy to accuse something which cannot speak in its own defense.

Sincerely Yours,

B. C. S.

Editor's Comment:

We were brooding over this letter Tuesday (it arrived too late for publication last week), when the phone rang and a resident of this area told us she had just been jumped by these same two dogs. Checking with the Carmel police department yesterday, we found that a second complaint came in shortly after our local resident's; (Continued on Page Sixteen)

*Not eligible for title.

By clubbing Hollister, 66 to 39, last Friday night at the Haybaler gym, the Carmel High varsity basketball squad wrapped up the CCAL B-division championship and earned the right to represent the league in the Peninsula Tournament at Stanford University on March 11. The Padres put together a solid effort in notching the win over Hollister and had things pretty well in hand after the first quarter. Breaking to a 21-5 first quarter lead, the accurate-shooting Carmel gang kept the pressure on the Haybalers throughout the contest to register a 30-15 halftime edge and increase the margin to 45-25 at the end of the third quarter.

While the varsity was having an easy time of it against the out-classed Hollister heavies, the Little Padres were having nothing but trouble and were upset, 49 to 36. The Carmel lights handled the Hayseeds with ease in the first meeting this season and figured to notch another win in the rematch. However, the Hollister boys failed to get the word and reversed the decision with their best offensive action of the season.

Coach Dick Lawitzke's junior-varsity squad kept its league record unbroken as it swept to a 48-30 win over the small Hollister jayvee gang. Hollister was no match for the talented Carmel quintet and was out of contention as early as the second quarter. Pete Morse, Jim Kelly, and Rick Baldwin all hit in the double figures for the Red and Gray reserves with Morse's 16 points being high for the game.

Steve Fairfield, enjoying his best shooting of the season, topped the Carmel lights in their losing cause against the Hayseeds. The little lefty made good on four field goals and tanked four free-throws to pick up his even dozen. Ted Leidig (8) and Bob Moffatt (6) helped light up the Padre side of the board but the frigid team shooting average was no match for the win-hungry Hollister lads.

The Wilkin twins, Chris and John, found the Hollister gym to their liking as they pumped through 16 and 12 points respectively. Besides leading the Padre scorers the rugged twins were tops in the rebounding department and were vital cogs in the stingy Padre defense. Laney junior Jim Brown chipped in with 11 points to augment the Carmel point spree and played a fine floor game while helping Mike Draper and Bob Little set up the precise Carmel attack.

The Padre lightweight and varsity cagers travel to Gilroy this Friday night for a try at the unofficial league-leaders in both the varsity and lightweight divisions. Neither Gilroy team is qualified to win the league championship, but the Blue and White hoopsters have been playing an inspired type of ball to completely dominate the B-division.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Coach Larry Cummins' Monterey Peninsula College cagers were looking down the schedule at the San Jose City College crew and the Hartnell Panthers pulled the upset of the season by clipping the runner-up Lobo gang. Hartnell has been easy pickings for Monterey in recent years and the Maroon and White quintet was figured to breeze in against the hapless Panthers. Hot shooting plus an inspired defense were the ingredients which fashioned the upset win for the jubilant Hartnell hoopsters. The Lobos got back on the win trail at the expense of Foothill JC Saturday night but the unexpected loss to Hartnell just about obliterated any championship hopes for the Monterey collegians. MPC's Mel Mason, one of the classiest basketball players in junior college ranks, continues to lead the Coast Conference scoring race and is currently averaging close to 20 points per game.

Monterey High School, away to a shaky start in this season's hoop play, came with a rush in the late stages of the campaign and wrapped up the CCAL A-division title last Friday night at Watsonville. Bob Jensen, the most prolific scorer in the CCAL and one of the top point-makers in Northern California, tanked 31 points as the Toreadores rubbed the Watsonville Wildcats, 74 to 57. With the CCAL title wrapped up, Coach Ed Larsh's charges are now looking forward to another try in the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley. Monterey has made several trips to the T of C but has never enjoyed much success against the likes of McClymonds, Poly, and Richmond. With the high-scoring Jensen on the loose at the University of California's gym, this may be the year for the Toreadores to salvage some prestige for the Coast Counties Athletic League . . . Carmel Tournament fans would recognize two familiar faces on Saturday night's televised game between Stanford and the Golden Bears. Handling the playmaking chores for the Indians was Bub Bowling, MVP in the Carmel Tournament while at Fremont High. Guiding the California attack was Gilroy's slender Dick Smith, also a MVP award winner while participating in the Carmel hoop festival. Bub and his Stanford mates apparently had a safe 20-point lead at the end of the first half but the sticky California pressing defense unhinged the Indians in the second half and the Bears surged back for the win . . . Carmel High's lightweight and varsity squads wind up league play this Friday night at Gilroy and would like nothing better than wins over the classy Mustang quintets. The Padres came close to the undefeated Gilroy varsity in the first meeting, but were snookered at the free-throw line. Coach Bob Hagen's play-for-fun cagers are always well-disciplined and the clever play patterns exhibited by the Mustangs would do credit to a topflight college quintet.

PACIFIC GROVE WINS PADRE TRIPLE-HEADER

Pacific Grove's up-and-down basketball squads enjoyed their happiest moments of the current season Tuesday night at the Carmel High gym when they hung a triple defeat on the three Padre quintets. The PG junior-varsity set the pattern for the night's activity when it came back from a 20-point deficit to edge Coach Dick Lawitzke's charges, 58 to 54. In a frustrating game loaded with passing errors, violations, and cold shooting, the Pacific Grove lightweight clipped the Padre Babes, 27 to 25. The Breaker varsity had too much swift in this one as it worked a fast-break and long range jump shots to keep in front of the Padres.

Carmel's jayvee squad shot its way to a 21-6 first quarter lead and was on top 29-12 at the half only to see the hustling Breaker reserves surge to the win with a 25-point scoring spree in the final quarter. Rick Shively (17), Rick Baldwin (13), and Jim Kelley (12) were the leading point-makers for Carmel with Charley French hitting 18 to lead the winners.

Coach Harold Lippstreu's lightweights scored only nine points in the first half but came back to outplay the Wavelets in the second

Pixie Trains Proposed As Attractive Solution To Our Parking Problem

BY GRACE HOWDEN

Once before I have suggested this colorful and practical solution to Carmel's parking problem. Nothing has been done about it, and I sincerely hope it is not too late to arrange it without too great an increase in Carmel's budget.

I say this plan is practical because it was originally suggested to me by a man: it is colorful, which makes it an attractive suggestion to our senior citizens who want to retain the unique charm of our story-book town.

Gay little trains, with bright awnings and seats facing out would ply from parking lots at each end of town. The cost of gas used in trying to find a parking place in town would pay for the fare on the little train.

These trains are used successfully in many places. They can be called Elf Trains, Pixie Trains, By-the-Sea Trains, Pony Express, or some other attractive name chosen by a committee. This committee could arrange a contest to secure a suitable name.

The senior citizens have welcomed this idea. There are so many who have no cars and are not well enough to walk to town; yet they would love to see their friends at the post office each day, or buy a few fresh vegetables at the store and ride back home on the gay little train.

An attractive carved wooden bench could be placed at each block for passengers waiting for the trains. Cost of material for these could be met by small donations from prospective passengers living around each block. Wood carvers of the town might donate their services for making the benches.

Older people would find easy access to seats as trains would be built close to the ground. Behind each seat would be a space for carrying shopping bags. Reduced rates could be arranged by purchasing books of tickets.

Arrangements might even be made with the presently operating bus company to take over such a project. Certainly it is high time, if necessary, to purchase parking lots before prices soar or there are no areas available.

We have had the parking problem with us ever since I wrote about this before and the problem should have been faced even then.

Let us have our gay little trains so suitable for the atmosphere of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Dinner For Real Estate President

A dinner honoring California Real Estate Association president Kenneth H. Smith of San Francisco, will be given by the Tenth District, on Thursday evening at Aptos Beach Inn, Rio De Mar. All board members, salesmen and interested persons are invited to attend. This is Mr. Smith's only visit of the year. He is well known here and is an outstanding realtor. Jack Pontius, state secretary and educational chairman, also will be in attendance. Cocktails are at 6:30 o'clock, dinner 7:30. There will be a business meeting for board presidents and secretaries at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon in the same place, same date, but all members are urged to attend.

MUSIC ON THE PENINSULA

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

John Delavoryas, pianist and professor at San Jose State College, was presented at Monterey Peninsula College as the third of this season's concert offerings. A program of Bach, Beethoven, Prokofieff, Liszt and Chopin proved him to be a performer of brilliancy and physical strength though his insistent fortissimo became unnecessarily monotonous, creating tension in the endurance of the listener. While this was quite appropriate to the Liszt Concert Study, its application to a Chopin Nocturne was harsh and out of character. His clever use of the pedals produced some unusually sustained effects but his touch always seemed to dig in every note for the limit of tone the piano strings would bear, particularly in melodic lines, though his flow of phrase was compelling. All this, however, in the modern desire for extremes and excitement, brought forth plenty of enthusiastic applause from the audience. His individual dedication to brilliancy was not, however, without a few poetic moments which would have gained with more relaxation.

Nevertheless Delavoryas' recital was perhaps one of the most stimulating the college has offered the public if one considers excessive sound and the arid repetitions, though interesting form, of Prokofieff's early composition Visions Fugitive a stimulus—but hardly an inspiration. We are grateful to the college for this startling recital and all their free offerings since every kind must be heard for discriminating knowledge in performance of accepted works.

At the San Francisco Symphony Concert Saturday evening the entire full house rose to its feet to greet Pierre Monteux, the former regular conductor for seventeen years, as an honored guest for two weeks. Prolonged applause followed his fine artistic control of the Mozart Symphony in D Major, the Brahms No. 4 in E Minor and the No. 2 by the modern Paul Creston.

At nearly 86, Monteux (and Sir Thomas Beecham who is 84) are the two senior conductors of the world today. One feels with Monteux's quiet, masterly though energetic baton, that the orchestra is held enthralled by his concepts; and personally I have never heard the San Francisco Orchestra so interesting in its balance, sole parts and modulations. Mozart is one of Monteux's idols, but the Brahms and Creston were equally inspiring.

Creston is due particular praise for his interesting composition which he terms Symphony No. 2 based on the idea that song and dance are the foundations of all music. It is in two parts, Introduction and Song, and Interlude and Dance, and is the fifth composition this American composer has had played by the San Francisco Orchestra. Monteux displayed all its interesting intent and dramatic contrasts. Creston, no longer young, and a self-taught composer, has won international acclaim and is a great credit to creative music in the United States that no longer need bow to foreign composers as only those with anything to say!

The powerful last movement of the Brahms with its oft recurring main theme again pulled the audience to its feet with endless recalls. Monteux conducts this week in a Rimsky-Korsakoff, Debussy, Strauss and Berlioz program. As early founder of the Concerts Berlioz in Paris, this great orchestral composer is also a favorite with Monteux, whose stirring performance of Stravinsky's Rite of Spring with the National in Washington I shall also never forget.

Dame Myra Hess who was to have played with the orchestra at the Opera House March 22, 23, and 24, is ill and the famous Brazilian pianist Guiomar Novaes will take her place.

The Vienna Choir Boys will be the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association's event at Pacific Grove tonight.

THE BLUE JAY

The brilliant blue of outspread wings goes with your raucous cry—to me more like alerting call, that pings upon my consciousness. I see the forest roused. You scold the birds, you rob chipmunks, you tease the squirrels,
you argue long in jangled words.
Although a scoundrel you may be—proud dandy that you are—the blue enchantment that you bring—for me offsets the baser things you do.

—MABEL M. HEINSON

SHE WILL NEVER LEAVE ME

A shadow of tree—when leaves are gone—
Is a shrouded shape, the moon makes long—
A shadow that dances—this ghost on the blind—
To a nocturne of sorrow—across my mind.

I followed its leaves from summer to fall—
Follow them now—in my heart's recall—
I cling to their shimmering god-like worth;
Shutter the view of their stillness in earth.

Over my grief—a comfort of snow
Promises hope—in reflection's glow;—
Unwhispered, comes message first snowfalls bring:
Winter will warm the seed of Spring.

—COMTESSE CLOVER DE BERARD

A DUSTY DIARY

A dusty diary with six grudging lines
Scrawled by a child who used the name I use:
"Today I got a 96 in math."
And on the next page
"Joyce's birthday party;
I gave a locket."
Now with searching fingers
In the pocket
Of yesterday . . .
I find a child
Pale, in apple-green,
A packet with a locket,
Blind man's buff,
And clothespins in a bottle—
There's enough for any dreaming matron.
(A girl-child girded with a female world—
Girl games, friends, schemes.
I prod the shells of uninhabited dreams
And outgrown hopes,
Sort through the abandoned excess of a child's Limitless banquet of tomorrow.)

Strange that I thought the volume looked too thin.

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present the Vienna Choir Boys, first organized in 1498, as the final concert of the season, tonight, 8:15 o'clock at the Pacific Grove High School.

Founded by decree of the Holy Roman Emperor Maximilian I, the choir has a distinguished history, interrupted only by the imprisonment of Father Schmitt by the Nazis in World War II. At the war's end, reestablishing of the 450-year-old choir began, and in 1948 a triumphal return was made to the United States.

Many famous Austrian and German musicians have performed with the Vienna Choir Boys, including Beethoven, Mozart, Liszt and Bruckner. They often program works by two of their former members—Franz Schubert and Franz Josef Haydn.

The present tour features the seventeenth group of youngsters to arrive since 1948. In addition to appearing before hundreds of thousands in this country on their tours, the Vienna Choir Boys have been featured on Cinerama, have made extensive recordings, and have appeared on Omnibus with Perry Como, and other special TV shows. They once made a surprise appearance at the Metropolitan Opera's New Year's Eve gala performance of Die Fledermaus.

The program will include works from Bach, Kodaly, Bartok, Brahms and Strauss. In accordance with their usual custom, the program will also include a one-act comic opera, By Royal Command, by Conradien Kreutzer, and a group of folk songs.

Admission is limited to members of the association, and to members of nearby concert associations on a space available basis.

VON STROHEIM CLASSIC AT MPC ARMORY TOMORROW

Greed, often called director Eric von Stroheim's greatest picture, will be shown by the Monterey Peninsula College Evening Division as the first spring semester offering of the Theater Arts Group of foreign and vintage films.

The ten-reel released version of Stroheim's experimental 50-reel adaptation of Frank Norris' novel, McTeague will be presented at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow evening in the college armory. The public is invited without charge.

Starring in Greed are Zazu Pitts, and Gibson Gowland, Chester Conklin and Jean Hersholt.

Moliere Comedy In French At The Wharf Tuesday

The Vieux Colombier Company of Paris will return to the Peninsula on Tuesday to present Moliere's comedy, L'Ecole des Femmes, according to Dr. Frederick R. Huber, president of Monterey Peninsula Junior College, and Mrs. August Armanasco, president of La Causerie Francaise, Carmel affiliate of L'Alliance Francaise.

The play, written in 1662, will have a single performance at the Wharf Theatre and Opera House in Monterey at 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

The Vieux-Colombier Company gave a performance of Racine's tragedy Britannicus here in 1958. Manager of the company is Jean de Rigault. He will present L'Ecole des Femmes in Robert Marcy's daring modern costumes and sets. Parisian drama critics hailed this modern version of the play in 1959 as "a real triumph for its director . . . a true blend of classic integrity and contemporary spontaneity."

Faith Schuler

Mrs. Faith Schuler, formerly a radio personality in Northern California, died on Monday in her residence at Dolores Street and Eighth Avenue after a long illness. She came here four years ago to make her home with her mother, Mrs. Elisabeth Crichton.

Previously, Mrs. Schuler lived in Mount Shasta and Redding. In the former town she broadcast her own radio program, News, Notes and Neighbors. After moving to Redding she was a radio news commentator, conducted a women's program and arranged other programs. She was twice chosen Woman of the Year, in 1954 and 1955.

She became a medical secretary following her move to Carmel and was founder of the local Medical Secretaries' Association.

Mrs. Schuler was born in Wollaston, Massachusetts, on June 3, 1912.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a son, WO David O. Carpenter (USMC) living in Albany, Georgia; two grandchildren, Marci Michelle and Stephen Carpenter of Albany, Georgia; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services, conducted by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, were held this afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Louise Whitney

Mrs. Louise Hampton Whitney of Santa Cruz, a Carmel resident from 1932 to 1945, died Saturday in Santa Cruz while being taken in an ambulance from her home to a hospital. She was formerly married to Willard Whitney of Carmel.

Mrs. Whitney was born in Tacoma, Washington, on November 16, 1901. She was employed by the Bank of Carmel during her residence here. Recently she was a secretary in the Santa Cruz office of the California Highway Patrol.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. Barbara Hampton, with whom she lived in Santa Cruz. Her sister, Mrs. Betty Andrews, died in Carmel in 1942.

Funeral services were held this afternoon in Santa Cruz with the Reverend Alexander Anderson, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, officiating. Inurnment will be in the family niche in the Seattle Columbarium, Washington.

Art On The Peninsula—

Donald Teague, N.A., of Carmel is exhibiting in the annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design in New York City which opens today and continues through March 19.

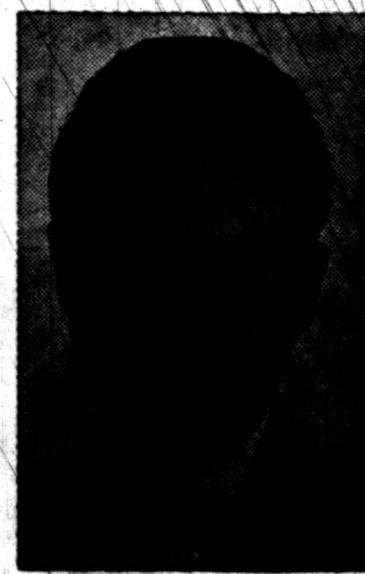

The 240 exhibits include work of academicians and associates distinguished in the field of painting, architecture, sculpture and the graphic arts.

Mr. Teague's picture is a water color of an alley in Naples. Its title is Collector's Item.

John S. Bolles, president of the San Francisco Art Association, announces that both the Association and the California School of Fine Arts, which it maintains, will be renamed the San Francisco Art Institute.

Mrs. Robert Holt of Carmel won first prize at the Craft Studios show on February 15. She submitted an oil painting, Bridge at Orleans. Second prize was awarded to Alexander Jaden of Carmel for his watercolor study of a tree.

Joe Feurborn, August Steinman, and Cush Walker judged the show.

D. Sheldon, Carmel area cookie sale chairman, urges the community to support the fund raising effort. Two kinds of cookies, cashewettes and chocolate candy bars will be offered to the public. The two-week sale will end on March 11 with a sale in the business district. All funds will be used to further Girl Scouting programs in this area.

Mrs. Sheldon's assistant will be Mrs. Ray Benson. Those offering their homes as refill stations for the girls to use in filling their orders are Mrs. Harold Aldrich, Mrs. Janice Handley, Mrs. Walter Norwick, Mrs. Kent Whitcomb, Mrs. William van Train Jr., Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Sheldon.

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thernburg

From the east coast a newborn publishing house issued its first catalog, and had the following to say about books. "Books are the sovereign medium of mass communications. Mature civilizations have survived, flourished even, in the absence of radio, television, motion pictures, magazines, and newspapers, but not without books. For books serve to illuminate reality, to stimulate, to entertain, in a special way: they can give the pleasure which comes from learning, the excitement of new experience, the quiet comfort of relaxing in solitude . . . Librarians have always known this. Good book-sellers know this too."

Among the new books is a true western by Paul Wellman. It is called The Dynasty of Western Outlaws. Here are contained the stories of the outlaws and gun-slingers of the old west, the true tales of their crimes and the way they paid for them. Ah, there's many an outlaw bites the dust in these stories!

We have a new cookbook which you should look at whether or not you like to cook, and the reason for that is because the pictures are so beautiful. The recipes look wonderful but the pictures are even more so. James Beard did it, and called it Outdoor Cooking. Recipes include the commonplace and also strange combinations such as black beans and rum, or green onion tart. Reach for an apron, pardner, and start cooking!

John Kenneth Galbraith is perhaps best known for his book entitled The Affluent Society. His latest is called The Liberal Hour, and its title was taken from a remark by Adlai Stevenson when he said that the period before presidential elections might be called the liberal hour because it was then that even the most obsolete men become reconciled to the machine age. Mr. Galbraith discusses such topics as The Strategy of Peaceful Competition, The Care and Prevention of Disaster, The Pleasures and Uses of Bankruptcy.

For security reasons the story was kept secret of how 14 men paddled tiny boats into the harbor of Singapore and by attaching limpet mines to the Japanese boats at anchor there, they managed to sink 4,000 tons of cargo ships. Now it can be told, and it is, and by Brian Connell, the English journalist, who has published several books prior to this one. The title is Return of the Tiger. The bravery of these men, the hardships they endured, the success of their first mission, make a story you cannot put down.

Her Royal Highness Wilhelmina, Princess of the Netherlands, wrote a book for her own people with no idea that it might be translated into other languages. She gave her consent to the translating and the book has been published in English under the title Lonely But Not Alone. It is the story of her life, of her devout faith, and her answers to the problems which confronted her. Many of the illustrations in the book are reproductions of her paintings. Like many another public figure, she turned to painting for relief from tension.

There are novels, too, of course. The dearth of good books, which seems to hit us annually during the depth of winter, is beginning to ease and we have a lot of good ones on order. Keep smiling.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT
AT POST OFFICE MONDAY

The mobile x-ray unit of the Monterey County Health Department will be parked near the post office on Monday afternoon from 1:00-5:00 o'clock. Free chest x-rays will be given to all persons desiring them. Each film taken in the truck will be read by two Salinas radiologists and results reported by postcard to those who have been x-rayed here.

During the past nine years this free public health service has discovered 187 cases of tuberculosis, 1060 cases of suspected heart and blood vessel disease, 78 lung and throat tumors, 38 suspected cases of cancer, from the 963,954 x-rays taken in the mobile unit.

Bishop Welch Has Lived 99 Years Of Service, Excitement

AM, DD, LLD, BD and Litt, D., degrees from Wesleyan University, Drew Theological Seminary, Oxford University, Northwestern University, Western Reserve University of Vermont, Allegheny College, Boston University, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and other schools, and from Ohio Wesleyan University where after serving as pastor of churches in New York and New England, he became a university president from 1905-1916.

Elected to the episcopacy in 1916, he served as resident bishop of Japan and Korea from then until 1928, of the Pittsburgh area until 1932, and returned to the Orient to serve as bishop of the Shanghai area from 1932-36. For the following two years he filled in after his first retirement as bishop of the Boston area before plunging into the war relief work.

Now senior bishop of the church, he was elected Methodist of the Year in 1958 and awarded the Poe medal in 1957. Honors from the Far East include the Order of Sacred Treasure from Japan, the Medal of Korea, honorary citizenship of Korea, and an honor citation from the Republic of China.

After his long assignments in the Orient, Bishop Welch says he cherishes his memories of friendship and cooperation with a long list of dwellers in all three countries (Japan, Korea, China), from native ministers and parishioners to men like Syngman Rhee, whom he knew as a stubborn man of industry and ability long before circumstances raised Rhee to world prominence, and to women like author Pearl Buck, whose work on behalf of oppressed peoples often paralleled his own.

As in the experiences of all who have lived and worked in Oriental countries during the first half of this century, violence of nature and politics attended his activities. Among the crises recalled best by the Welch family were a tornado that ripped off their roof, the Japanese earthquake of 1923, and a midwinter fire that razed their home in Seoul. Also, bandits were rife in the provinces when the Welches lived in China.

During events leading to the independence of Korea (anniversary of which will be celebrated March 1), Bishop Welch was pressurized by Japanese officials to exert his influence against the move toward independence, which of course he refused to do, could not do, in fact, in his position as a church leader, even if he had wanted to engage in politics. One of the clergymen's best friends, a Korean official, was assassinated in his home by the Japanese about this time.

But one of the Korean friends of whom Bishop Welch is proudest is Dr. Helen Kim, president of a Korean women's college and recent representative of Korea at the United Nations. "She is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan," Bishop Welch said, "and after all these years, I'm still a college president at heart." A leading woman member of the Japanese cabinet is also an alumna of the Ohio school.

A man of regal bearing and formal appearance, Bishop Welch cancels out any hint of the formidable in his personality with a merry grin and easily induced laughter. To point up his remark about his enduring loyalty to Ohio Wesleyan, he sang a rousing chorus of a football rally song used by the school when they played rival Ohio State University. He probably hadn't sung the song for over a half century (during which he has had many other things on his mind) but he finished at a good

Vocalists Sought For County Symphony's Season End Concert

The Monterey County Symphony is conducting a talent search for outstanding local vocalists who will be featured as soloists with the orchestra and the Hartnell Community Chorus in the final pair of concerts of the 1960-61 season in May.

Symphony conductor Ronald Ondrejka invites singers interested in trying out for solo parts to either of two auditions: on the evenings of March 7, at 8:00 o'clock in the music room at Carmel High School, or March 9, at 8:00 o'clock in Room 22 of the Music Wing at Hartnell College in Salinas.

Major work to be performed on clip and never forgot a word of it.

In addition to his other accomplishments, Bishop Welch has been co-author and author of a number of publications and books in English and Korean, among them The Christian College, That One Face, Men of the Outposts, and has edited a collection of the writings of John Wesley.

He plans to take leave of his family in Carmel, which includes, in addition to Mrs. Blanks, his grandson Herb Blanks and three great-grandsons, before the first of next month to return to his New York home which he makes with another daughter, Miss Eleanor Welch.

the final program will be Mozart's Vesperae Solennes de Confessore. The work includes solo parts for soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. Concerts will be presented May 15 in Salinas and May 16 in Carmel.

Singers may select their own material for auditioning. Ondrejka noted; previous familiarity with the Mozart work is not necessary, and scores will be provided to the soloists selected.

Soloists will work directly with Ondrejka and the orchestra in preparation for the concert. The chorus will be trained by Hartnell music director Vahe Aslanian.

George Seldeneck, professional artist and photographer, will show slides of England, Germany, Italy and the Monterey Peninsula at the Wednesday program of the Carmel Foundation Town House. Mr. Seldeneck is a member of the Carmel Art Association. He has traveled extensively and his slides are not only interesting in content but make use of special photographic techniques. All interested persons are invited to the program at 3:00 o'clock, also the tea which follows.

Cast Honors Dramatist Maddow

Following Saturday evening's rehearsal of Spring Out of Season, which will have a world premiere at the Theatre in the Ground tomorrow evening, members of the cast gave a party in honor of the play's author, Hollywood screen writer Ben Maddow. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Marcus of Carmel Highlands. Mr. Marcus, former screen writer turned novelist, is a friend of Mr. Maddow's and was instrumental in giving Maddow's play to Cole Weston, who is directing the local presentation of Spring Out of Season.

Carl Vetter Talks To Engineers

Carl Vetter of Carmel, a consulting hydraulic engineer and an authority on the Colorado River, spoke to the Monterey Bay Chapter of the California Society of Professional Engineers last Wednesday. He said that when the upper Colorado Basin states and Arizona utilize all the water due them under the Colorado River Pact, California will have a water shortage of one and a half million acre feet annually. Vetter concluded the shortage will have to be met by new facilities to be constructed between now and the time the basin states will be using their share of the river's water.

Also at the meeting, the chapter elected its officers for the coming year, to be installed next May. Ivan Hall of Salinas will replace Steven H. Sasso, consulting structural engineer of Carmel, as president. John Rogers of Salinas will be the new vice-president. Richard P. Wenzlik, consulting engineer of Carmel will succeed himself as secretary-treasurer.

Cadet Goularte Sings In Capital

Cadet Richard W. Goularte sang with the Citadel choir in the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C. on Sunday. On the Washington trip the choir also appeared on television and sang in the Pentagon Concourse for a World Day of Prayer service. He is the son of Major J. C. Goularte of Carmel and was a member of the Carmel High School Class of 1960.

The Citadel is a military college established in 1842 and situated in Charleston, South Carolina.

Engineering Dept. To Hold Open House At MPC On March 2

As a means of demonstrating to the public the type and quality of their work, the Monterey Peninsula College electronics, physics and engineering departments will hold "open house" on March 2 in the engineering building on campus.

Lecture classes will be held as scheduled and visitors are invited to attend. Laboratories will be open from 8:00 to 5:00 o'clock with regular classes in session.

Department heads Kenneth Peterson and Cloan Powell and instructors Stephen James, Gary Eldridge, Owen Patrick, Captain S. Y. Cutler, Joel Readio and Walter Mara will be on hand to welcome visitors and explain the subject matter and curriculum.

Coffee will be served at 10:30 o'clock. At 11:00 Powell, James and Peterson will give brief presentations on the scope of work in their departments.

At 11:15, Professor James L. Meriam, chairman of the department of mechanics and design, College of Engineering, University of California, will speak on The Problem in Education for the Profession of Engineering.

P.G. Police Youth Booklet A Rotary Public Service

The Pacific Grove Police Department has prepared a 16 page booklet entitled, A Guide for Youth. The Rotary Club of Pacific Grove sponsored the booklet as a public service. It is a digest of the code as it affects parents and children. Paragraph headings include: Alcohol and Liquor, Baby Sitting, Bicycles, Cautions for Young Children, Fighting—Assault and Battery, Liability of Parents for Acts of their Children, Morals Offenses, Narcotics and Drugs, Parental Duty, Secret Clubs, Shop Lifting, Slumber Parties. We have mentioned a few. There are 28 sections, containing two parts: What the Youth Should Know; What the Parent Should Know.

For instance, under Parental Duty:

"What the Youth Should Know: Do not feel that your parents are snooping or showing lack of trust or faith when they check on your activities now and then. This is part of their duty and responsibilities as parents."

"What the Parent Should Know: Parents should keep themselves informed about their children's activities. Whenever a teen-ager leaves the house, a parent should be able, as the result of mutual agreement with his child, to answer these questions: With whom is he going and where. Take the trouble to know the atmosphere of the places where your child goes and the type of individuals he hangs around with."

Go To Rotary District Meeting

Mayor Frank Putnam, also Rotary Club president, and president-elect Rollo Payne will head the Carmel Rotary Club's delegation to the District 522 Annual Conference and Assembly of Rotary Clubs which started today in Stockton and continues until Saturday noon. Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. Payne will accompany their husbands to the conference.

Other members of the delegation are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vetter, Mr. and Mrs. William Eklund, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Svendsgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McWethy, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Caheen, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rattray, Police Chief Clyde Klaumann and Mrs. Klaumann, George Yates, Howard Bruggeman, Lew Kramer, Howard Bucquet, Clayton Neill Jr., Robert Ricklefs, Roy Horning, Thomas K. Perry and Kip Silvey.

Harvey G. Brown Succeeds Ewig

Edwin H. Ewig of Carmel has retired from the position of vice president and manager of the Crocker-Anglo Bank's Pebble Beach branch. He has been succeeded by Harvey G. Brown, formerly vice president and senior assistant manager at the Crocker-Anglo branch in Eureka.

Prior to joining Crocker-Anglo in 1956, Mr. Brown spent 14 years in banking in New York, 12 years in Alaska in the same field. He served in the Army during World War II and was associated with Crocker-Anglo in San Francisco before being transferred to Eureka in 1958.

He is a former president of the Alaska Bankers Association, also Humboldt County National Foundation chairman and chairman of the business and public affairs committee of the Eureka Kiwanis Club.

World Prayer Day Here

United Church Women of the Monterey Peninsula met in the Carmel Presbyterian Church February 17 to join in the seventy-fifth observance of the World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. Robert Aversano, president of the United Church Women, brought a message from churches around the world, and Mrs. H. Spencer Hoyt gave an inspirational talk on the background of the World Day of Prayer. The afternoon service of worship followed the pattern of similar services in 145 countries.

The offering received will be used for a variety of projects, including the migrant ministry in the United States, a literature program for Africa, and help for Alaska's growing churches.

Guests Of Associated Artists

Miss Angie Machado, music instructor at Monterey Peninsula College, Mrs. Louise Vadetsky, member of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, and David Walton, president of the Symphony Association, attended the recent Associated Concert Artists preview in San Francisco.

This was the first preview of this type in the West. Nine numbers were presented with four groups unable to be on the program because of previous professional engagements. Purpose of the presentations was to enable representatives from colleges and communities to hear and select artists for forthcoming musical events.

Mike Bein In Navy

Michael H. Bein, apprentice petty officer third class, USN, son of Mrs. C. J. Berryhill of Carmel, graduated two weeks ago from nine weeks of training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego. He was chosen from the ranks to be an apprentice petty officer and assist his company commander. The selection is based on individual aptitude and leadership abilities.

Mike graduated from Carmel High School in June and attended Sacramento State College before joining the Navy.

Talk On South African Gardens

Mrs. Arthur Porter of Carmel, formerly a resident of South Africa, will discuss South African flowering trees, shrubs and garden flowers during an illustrated talk for the garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. She will be introduced by Mrs. Henry O. Hanson, garden section chairman.

Mrs. C. Tod Singleton, Woman's Club president, will preside. Mrs. Wallace Lowry, membership chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Edward J. Jackemy and Miss N. J. Peard as hostesses. Assistants for Mrs. Carl E. Rasmussen, hospitality chairman, will be Mrs. Frank G. Born, Mrs. Anders F. Swanson, Mrs. Fred Kane and Mrs. Henry Hubert Small. Pouring at the tea tables will be Mrs. William B. Skowran and Mrs. Raymond Conan. Mrs. William Eklund will provide the decorations.

At Guidance Conference

Miss Dorothy Wright, Carmel High School girls' vice principal, Dan Yurkovich, instructor and varsity basketball coach, and John Graham, faculty member and counselor, are attending a statewide counselors and guidance conference in Long Beach through tomorrow.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How the application of Christ Jesus' teaching to daily living brings increased blessings to mankind will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Among the Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the passage in which the Master states: "Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock . . ." (Luke 6:47, 48).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this (15:28-30): "Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings."

Spindrift Settles With The State, Changes Ownership

Carolyn Vogel and Virginia Hill announced this morning that they have reached an agreement with the state over its sale price for the Spindrift Restaurant land and building, at the intersection of Highway No. 1 and the Salinas-Monterey Highway, land that is in the path of state freeway development.

The partners, who have been Carmel residents and have operated restaurants on the Peninsula since 1949 have also sold all of their stock in Spindrift to their chef and manager, Herbert C. Blythe.

Blythe will continue operation of the Spindrift at its present location, on a rental agreement with the state, until the freeway project is underway, in about two years. Meanwhile, a new location is being sought so that the Spindrift can continue serving its patrons when it is forced to leave its present location.

Mr. Blythe, a native of San Francisco has been in the food business since 1936. For five years he was chief flight chef for Pan-American Airways, Pacific and Alaska Division, work that took him to the Orient and Australia. He trained flight stewards and stewardesses in food preparation and serving for the airline company, wrote several manuals on flight food preparations, one of which (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Ben Maddow Play Premieres Friday At Forest Theatre

Spring Out of Season, a poetic drama by Hollywood screen writer Ben Maddow, will have a world premiere at the Theatre in the Ground at the Forest Theater tomorrow evening, 8:30 o'clock.

Cole Weston will direct a cast of eight in the two-act play. The action of the drama is concerned with conflict in a Jewish family in an eastern United States city. The opposing characters are the father, a dreamer, and the mother, a practical realist.

Ben Maddow has been assigned by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to write the screen version of John Steinbeck's forthcoming book. One of Hollywood's top young script writers, he was co-director of the international prize-winning picture The Savage Eye, recently shown on the Peninsula. Included in his screen work were the scripts for Asphalt Jungle and The Unforgiven.

Mr. Maddow flew here last weekend to see his play in rehearsal and will return to see the play in production the second weekend in March.

The cast includes Russ Eddy and Joseph J. Joseph, who acted together in A View From the Bridge at the Theatre in the Ground; Doris Shirek, who appeared at the Circle Theatre in The Summer of the Seventeenth Doll; Paul Ransom, who has played at the First Theatre; Al Holliday, a Circle Theater actor; Anita Tonn, a newcomer to the Peninsula stage; also local players Julie Winters and Roger Tucker.

Sets are by Marlinde von Ruhs. Stage manager is Bill Melton. In charge of the stage crew is Bill Clinger. Properties are the concern of Tuesday Smith.

Spring Out of Season is the first production of the Theatre in the Ground since A View from the Bridge. Cole Weston and a staff of volunteers have repaired the small playhouse at the city-owned Forest Theater following damage by vandals.

Spring Out of Season will play each Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock for the next four weekends.

"Elephant Fencing Costly," Says Evans About Coast Congo

County supervisors on Monday received a letter from Jean-Pierre Hallet, president of the American Society to Protect and Conserve African Wildlife and Culture, stating that he would like to bring 3,000 African wild animals, to roam free, also African natives of various tribes, to a 1,000 acre sanctuary near Lucia, 50 miles south of Carmel.

The sanctuary for the African animals reportedly would be situated one-half mile north of Gamboa Point to one-half mile north of Lopez Point along the coast; inland three miles up the west fork of Limekiln Creek.

This morning William K. Stewart, of Big Creek Ranch Incorporated, stated that land between these points belonging to his group was not involved in the sanctuary; also he had ascertained that the Potter and Harlan properties in the same area had not been offered to Mr. Hallet.

William L. Hudson, another property owner in the area, also stated this morning that his land had not been offered for the sanctuary.

County Planning Commissioner Keith Evans says he knows of no other property owners between Gamboa and Lopez Points except a Mrs. Evans, no relative of his. She lives on her property. Mr. Hallet stated the sanctuary had been offered to him by a person living in New York.

"I wonder," continued Mr. Evans, "if anyone has thought of the cost of fencing to keep in elephants? At $5,000 a mile for five or ten miles this could be quite costly."

Included in the initial animal shipment would be 30 lions, 12 cheetahs, 12 elephants, 12 giraffes, 12 zebras, 162 antelopes, rhinos, buffaloes, wildcats and lynxes, 120 varieties of monkeys, 10 species of snakes, 272 eagles, vultures and other big birds.

The California Fish and Game

Department also has received correspondence from Mr. Hallet. Sacramento officials say he had operated a wildlife sanctuary in the Congo but had left because of political disturbances. The 3,000 animals are still there. He would like to bring them to Monterey County.

The Fish and Game Department has told Mr. Hallet that their regulations prohibit entry to this state of any animals which might compete with California's native fauna, or introduce foreign diseases.

Supervisors referred Hallet's request to the County Planning Commission staff for study and to prepare a report for the supervisors to consider on Monday.

half and came close to overhauling the winners in the final seconds. Ted Leidig's 13 points was tops for the Little Padres while the hustling defensive play of Gary Mumford, Jack DeWitt, and Steve Johnson held the vaunted PG offense in check.

With the league title already wrapped up, the Padre varsity turned in an uninspired performance while losing to the fired-up Breakers. Coach Marty Baskin's Breakers were on top 15-8 at the end of the first period, had a 21-21 lead at the half, and had a 38-32 bulge at the end of the third period. Little Mike Draper, despite the handicap of the flat wheel, meshed 15 markers to lead the Padres in their losing cause. Pacific Grove's Dennis Hunt, Doug McNeal, and Jim Plowman were consistently accurate with their long jump shots, collaborating to put 46 points on the board for the winners.

City And Environs In Controversy About Carmel Rancho Zoning

Valley residents present at the meeting. No action opposing Mr. Smith's requested commercial zoning was taken, according to Commander James L. Mays, president of the association. The board was pleased with the appearance of buildings now under construction at Carmel Rancho, he added.

The land in question is situated adjacent to 12 already commercially zoned acres east of the intersection of Carmel Valley Road and Highway One. Mr. Smith, owner of the property, is developing Carmel Rancho shopping center on seven and one half acres of the 12-acre area. Under construction are a Safeway market, Union Oil service station, hardware store and drug store.

He is now requesting precise zoning of an additional 29 acres; approximately 12 acres for retail commercial use and 17 acres for motel, resort hotel and professional office use. The Valley mouth area was left in interim zoning in the Carmel Valley Master Plan until such time as precise zoning should be requested.

Thomas K. Perry, president of Carmel Unincorporated, stated yesterday that the board of directors of Carmel Unincorporated, last Wednesday voted unanimously in favor of the zoning asked by Mr. Smith.

"Carmel Rancho plans are so good, the buildings under construction so well done that any alternative development in the area is unthinkable," Mr. Perry continued. He was referring to the possibility that the 29 acres under consideration possibly might be developed in less desirable commercial use.

Carmel Unincorporated board of directors is composed of representatives from Hatton Fields, Hatton Fields Mesa, Carmel Point, Mission Tract, Mission Fields, Carmel Woods, Carmel Hills, South Carmel Hills and Rancho Rio Vista. These areas comprise the immediate residentially developed environs of Carmel.

Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher, president of the Carmel Citizens Committee, reports that directors of this organization agree that Mr. Smith's application for precise commercial zoning of the 29 Valley mouth acres should be granted by the county planning commission.

"That Carmel Rancho exceeds county development requirements for commercial type of zoning is already proved by the good looking buildings under construction; lots of open space and much landscaping provided in Mr. Smith's plans," Admiral Fisher emphasized.

The original objectives of the Citizens Committee were against enlarging the Carmel city commercial zone and favored only two limited commercial zones in the city's environs. These were at the mouth of Carmel Valley and the old Capitol site in Monterey, Admiral Fisher remarked.

"The growth of population in this area seems to indicate the desire and need for shopping facilities in these two locations," he continued.

"The mouth of the Valley, unless it is used for such purposes, might develop in small undesirable businesses at the intersection of Highway One and the Valley Road. Also it is an area that is not a desirable location for better class residences," he concluded.

In a letter sent to the county planning commission, Colonel Austin De Camp (USA ret.) of Carmel, opposes Mr. Smith's request for additional commercial zoning adjacent to Carmel Rancho shopping center.

"To add any more commercial area to that already allowed (12 acres), is to exercise the role of an ingrate to nature and nature's heritage by reducing the viewing pleasures of a great host of current and prospective settlers for years and years to come."

"Is the enrichment of a land speculator more worthy than the preservation of the enjoyment of countless homeowners in nature's bounty for, perhaps, generations to come?"

"My answer is NO!" his letter ends.

Public Education Klaumann's Solution For Beach Safety

More public education would help prevent local drownings. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann stressed at a Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce community affairs bureau meeting on Tuesday morning. He suggested that visitors to this area be made more aware of the dangers of surf bathing and fishing off rocks than is now presented through various mediums.

"Only two drownings occurred off Carmel Beach between 1950 and 1960," Mr. Klaumann emphasized. Most drownings are elsewhere in this area, he added.

The meeting, attended by officials from all Peninsula cities, was called by Roderick L. Dewar, chairman of the community affairs bureau, to discuss possibilities for uniform water rescue procedures in this region.

Mayor Frank Putnam, Councilman John Chitwood, and Fire Chief Robert Smith, in addition to Mr. Klaumann, attended the meeting.

Two recent drownings at the foot of Ocean Avenue served as added impetus for Peninsula discussion of local water safety and rescue needs.

Mr. Klaumann stated that when

Two Points Of View On Dog Attacks

an out of town man reported that the dogs had rushed at him as he walked by the Sand Box on Scenic Avenue. Police Officer John Everard, going to investigate, pulled his elbow in quickly as he parked the police car in front of the Sand Box, since one of the dogs made a grab for his arm which was resting on the door of the car. Other police officers have had occasion to alerted that a swimmer is in difficulties off Carmel beach, police call the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. Before and after the ambulance arrives at the beach, police control crowds and traffic. They do not attempt rescue work.

"Policemen are not swimmers," he emphasized, "I have enough trouble hiring policemen without having to require that they also be expert, trained swimmers. My men are not allowed to set foot in the ocean," he concluded.

Mayor Putnam pointed out that Carmel Bay belonged to the State of California. The city posts the beach with signs warning visitors about swimming conditions but cannot prohibit persons from entering the water beyond the city's jurisdiction.

Later Councilman John Chitwood suggested, perhaps, these signs should be more explicit. If the signs indicated the surf and not the beach as unsafe for swimming, it might be an improvement.

This morning Mayor Frank Putnam told the Pine Cone that the signs at the beach, definitely, would be redesigned. He also stated that Police Chief Klaumann estimated there were more persons on the beach on Washington's Birthday than on the Fourth of July last year, and that many of these persons were swimming in the ocean.

At Tuesday's meeting Fire Chief Robert Smith stated that on February 12 while the body of Robert E. Lewis was being recovered at the south end of the beach, 15 persons were swimming at the foot of Ocean Avenue where the Army Language School student lost his life on February 5.

Mayor Putnam explained Carmel's position in regard to insurance liability in regard to the beach at Tuesday's meeting. For many years, he pointed out, Carmel maintained emergency telephone booths and lifesaving equipment on the beach. The city's insurance carriers insisted that this was tantamount to endorsing swimming, thus making the safety of swimmers a city liability. Life guards would mean the same city liability, according to Mr. Putnam, and cost the city $50,000 if the five guards considered adequate to patrol the beach were provided.

Later he remarked that Monterey County Sheriff Vic Tibbs defended these points and emphasized that the county would be in the same position as Carmel if patrols or equipment for life saving were provided in the county area.

Sheriff Tibbs suggested that if State Senator Fred Farr and Assemblyman Alan Pattee enacted state legislation to relieve political bodies of liabilities for providing lifesaving patrols and equipment on beaches, then such measures might be undertaken by these bodies, Mr. Putnam added.

pull in their elbows for the same reason while patrolling the area.

Carmel police have received a total of seven complaints from different individuals who say the dogs rush out barking at them, leap on them, and one reported being bitten. The complaints have come in on an average of one a month, the first in October; the two on February 21.

Following a complaint on January 16, the owner of the dogs promised the police department to keep them confined. He has been taking the dogs to work with him but Tuesday, left them home for the first time, he told police yesterday when they warned him that on the basis of complaints they have received, they are prepared to start proceedings with the district attorney to have the dogs declared nuisances, if there are any further complaints.

We should add that the "No Protection Against Vicious Dogs" story referred to B.C.S.'s letter contained an account of the biting record of the black poodle Ulysses. The headline was descriptive of Ulysses' activities and not intended to characterize the behavior of these dogs. We are not prepared to call them vicious. They may just be boisterous, but seven persons passing the Sand Box have found their attentions frightening; one person was bitten.

Even in Carmel, people as well as dogs should have the right to use the public streets unmolested.

—W.C.

BARDIN'S BODY RECOVERED

The body of Oliver Bardin, Salinas rancher, was recovered from the ocean Tuesday at Granite Creek. He was swept off rocks on February 15 while on a mussel gathering expedition at Soberanes Point. His body was recovered a mile south of this location.

Spindrift Settles With The State, Changes Ownership

was adopted by the Navy.

He came to the Peninsula in 1948 and opened a food information and distribution business. Since 1954 he has been chief chef for Spindrift. In 1958 the Spindrift partnership became APEC, a corporation with Miss Vogel president, Mr. Blythe, vice president and general manager and Miss Hill, secretary-treasurer. In the transaction this week, Miss Vogel and Miss Hill sold their stock to Blythe.

The latter have been in the restaurant business on the Peninsula since 1946 when they bought the Blue Bird Restaurant on Ocean Avenue. They sold the Blue Bird in 1949, and while operating a restaurant in Monterey planned and built the Spindrift, which opened in 1951 and achieved so wide a reputation for fine cuisine and attractive atmosphere that it was necessary for the owners to build a wing to double the dining room space.

There will be no change in the distinctive character of Spindrift, since the new owner intends to continue operating it as he has as chef and manager for the past two years.
